

Bell companies ought to accommodate other ISP firms that wish to purchase access from them. This situation will stimulate competition and be of benefit to the consumers.